chronicled in a National Geographic magazine. The experience gave him a feel for peoples and places of the world that he has since transmitted to the fifth grade Ancient Civilizations course at PDS.

After eight years as head of the Middle School, Mr. Merle-Smith stepped down to teach fifth grade English-history. He finds 10-year olds particularly appealing in their openness and receptivity, and the learning process itself—the acquiring of skills for the reading and writing about history—interest him as much as the ideas and concepts.

An Enabler. As one who has always had difficulty writing himself, Mr. Merle-Smith is particularly gifted helping those who have learning difficulties, and who today might be called dyslexic. He is known for his great patience and the quiet faith he places in each child. He is also one of the most thoroughly respected members of the PDS faculty, loved for his wise counsel and advice and his "basically perfect" instincts.

"If you could clone him, you would," says Mrs. Schweibert. "My best teacher," says an eighth grader who was once in his home room. "Everyone liked him, and no one fooled around with him. Even though he was always really serious, and we were working hard, it always seemed OK."

Relinquishing full time teaching because of a health problem, Mr. Merle-Smith will be at PDS next year as an adjunct teacher in the hall, giving help in reading and writing and doing advising.

At the year end faculty party, Sanford Bing, acting headmaster and head of the Upper School, remarked that these three retiring teachers are not people that can be replaced with others of identical or even similar talents. New teachers will come with abilities and skills that are uniquely their own, but none that are replicas of Sally Patterson, Mag Gilbert and Mike Merle-Smith. "It is the end of something important," Mr. Bing said gravely.

Crime Watch Call Results in Arrest Of Two Burglars

A phone call from a member of a neighborhood crime watch group led last week to the arrest of two thieves who had burglarized a Littlebrook Road home.

Township police were quick to praise the importance of receiving such calls. "It's the second time people in that neighborhood crime watch have been instrumental in the apprehension of burglary suspects," Chief Anthony Pinelli commented.

The alert resident called police at 12:15 Thursday afternoon to report a suspicious car parked on Littlebrook Road and she supplied police with the license registration. A police check revealed that it had been stolen from Falls Township, Pa.

As Sgt. David Potts sped to the location, he spotted the car on Princeton-Kingston Road near Locust Lane. When he attempted to pull it over, the car sped away. At the intersection of Nassau and N. Harrison Streets the suspect car was involved in a motor vehicle accident and its two occupants fled on foot.

One was apprehended by Sgt. Potts on Aiken Avenue; the second by Ptl. John Petrone Jr. behind the First National Bank of Princeton Branch, 370 Nassau Street. Assisting in the arrest, said Chief Pinelli, were Ptl. Mark Emann and Township detectives, members of the Borough police department and three tree surgeons who had been working in a tree nearby.

The suspects were identified as Tony Thomas, 21, and Kevin Queen, 19, both of Trenton. In their car, police said, was a quantity of television and stereo equipment.

That afternoon it was ascertained that a Littlebrook Road home had been burglarized and approximately $2,900 worth of articles stolen, including two TV sets, two stereo amplifiers, a turntable and tape deck.

Although the owners of the home were away at the time, a tenant, police said, identified the articles as having been stolen from the home. Later charged with theft, Thomas and Queen were taken to Mercer County Correction Center when they were unable to pay ten percent

Lack of Quorum Forces Planning Board To Postpone Collins Hearing until Monday

The issue has generated as much controversy as Princeton has seen in recent years and it was scheduled to come to a head at the meeting of the Regional Planning Board last Thursday night. So then, what finally happened to the controversial proposal of the Collins Development Corporation to construct an addition to the Nassau Inn in Palmer Square?

Nothing, at least not yet. Despite the best efforts of Planning Board secretary Pearl Pilon, who made phone calls over the weekend and each evening in an effort to muster the forces for the final battle, the board could not produce a quorum. The meeting—and presumably the final vote on site plan approval for the Inn addition—is scheduled for next Monday at 7:30 in the Valley Road building.

The meeting was postponed only after considerable jawboning between the concerned parties. Planning Board officials insisted until Wednesday that they would most likely have the meeting.

The Collins attorneys, meanwhile, were telling reporters and others that if the board did not meet, then Collins would exercise its legal right and claim approval on the grounds that the Planning Board had failed to act on the matter within the time limit allowed by the law.

Committee to File Appeal With Montgomery Township Over Route 92 Alignment

Township Committee will file an appeal with Montgomery Township this week objecting to the Montgomery Planning Board's approval June 6 of a 400-unit development that threatens to move S-92 to a new alignment astride the Montgomery-Princeton boundary.

Mayor Winthrop Pike made the motion at a Township Committee meeting filled with anxious residents of the Herrontown Road area whose homes and properties would be adversely affected. He was urged to do so by Committeewoman Barbara Cantrill, and the 4-0 vote (Committeewoman Gail Firestone was absent) was roundly applauded by the residents.

Mayor Winthrop Pike told the audience that although DOT Commissioner John Sheridan wrote Township Committee on May 23 saying he "looked forward" to working with Committee and the Township Engineer in regard to the routing of S-92, an agreement was signed June 6 between DOT and Calton Homes by which the DOT received 20 acres for $2 for a right-of-way in an alignment which skirts the proposed development.

Although Commissioner Sheridan has said that the alignment is not yet "graven in stone," Mayor Pike said he felt it "unlikely" that it will be changed, because the cost of acquiring the land when the development is in place could be several million dollars. Citing the diabase ridge, the steep slopes, and the thousands of tons of rock that will have to be carted away if the cuts are made, the mayor questioned whether the money that is not spent on acquiring land would outweigh the costs of building the roadway.

He also recalled "the considerable fuss" and law suits against Kingston Trap Rock by residents whose homes were damaged from blasting a few years back. "There's a gas pipe line up there—I hope the engineers know how to blast without fracturing it," he added.

Laurence Glasberg, who owns 23 acres and a large home between Herrontown Road and the Princeton-Montgomery boundary, reiterated his position that scheme 1, the "preserved alignment," was much more acceptable from the

Trenton Roundup

Automobile drivers were the focus of legislative action in Trenton this week.

Governor Thomas Kean signed a bill designed to help buyers whose new cars turn out to be "lemons." Under the new law, the buyer of a car will be entitled to a comparable replacement car or a refund if the manufacturer or dealer cannot repair the car so that it meets the warranty in "a reasonable number of attempts." This is defined as "four or more tries or a total of 30 days" when the car is out of service because of repair-work for defects covered by warranty.

Car owners must report defects within the warranty period or within one year of delivery date, whichever comes first.

A plan was introduced into the State Senate eliminating the 11-year-old "no fault" automobile insurance program. Sponsors claim it would cut the average insurance premium in half. New Jersey has the highest automobile insurance in the country.

Inspection of cars by private garages may go into effect next month. The cost is expected to be $12 to $15 per inspection. The present public inspection system would remain. It is estimated that about one-third of the state's drivers will choose the private garage system.

It is expected that the bills providing for private inspection will be passed this week, following a compromise between Governor Kean, who favors the dual system, and Democratic members of the State Assembly who oppose it.

The Assembly has approved a bill increasing the maximum jail term to four years for causing death by automobile. Sponsors believe it will reduce fatalities caused by drunk drivers.

There are resources, the report states. A cash management program now in effect is described as "most impressive" by the Committee. Space is leased, bringing in about half a million in current income. Tuition from out-of-district students could bring in others, would be required, and the administration will "have to see that they are being followed." The additional administrative cost would be $50,000, the report estimates.

Mergers with other districts are not recommended. "Educating for a changing world will be expensive," the report warns. "We think the Princeton community is willing to bear that expense."

BUS DRIVER VICTIM

Of Armed Holdup. A suburban Transit bus driver was robbed at gun point last week by a lone passenger who escaped with $50 in fares and an additional sum of money taken from the driver.

The gunman was the last passenger on the bus, according to police, when he pulled the cord to get off at the intersection of Mt. Lucas Road and Ewing Street. As he approached the driver, he pointed a small caliber pistol at his head and demanded money.

After the gunman had fled from the bus, the driver drove to Princeton Shopping Center where he called police at 1:15 last Wednesday afternoon from a service station. Police searched the area but were unable to locate the suspect.

He is described as a black male, about 23 years old, 5-9 to 5-10, thin, wearing a dark brown, see-through cap, dark brown sweater-type pullover shirt, blue jeans and sneakers.

Police report that the suspect had gotten on the bus in New Brunswick. He took a seat in the rear and had waited until all the passengers had left before attempting the holdup.

ANOTHER WEEK

More Parked Cars Looted.

The smashing of windows and looting of parked cars in the Borough continues, as Chief Michael Carnevale reported seven more incidents last week, three in a private parking lot off Prospect Avenue.

The left front vent window of the car of a Kingston resident was pried open while it was parked overnight in the Prospect lot and after the thief failed in an attempt to remove a radio from the car, he took a suitcase containing items valued at $890. Among them: camera, binoculars, watch, clothing and backpack.

The right front window of a Volkswagen parked in the same lot was smashed and the victim, a resident of Prospect Avenue, reported the theft of a $240 car stereo and a $10 flashlight. Another resident of the street told police that someone had broken the radio antenna and damaged a front fender of his car, which was parked in the same lot.

Two cars were entered while parked on lower University Place last week. The BMW of a Princeton resident yielded $175 in articles after its passenger side window was broken last week. Included in the theft were an athletic bag, a sweat suit, sneakers, sunglasses and a needlepoint kit.

Another Princeton resident reported on Friday that the side window of his car had been smashed and the contents of the glove compartment strewn about. Police said the victim was not available for an on scene investigation but added that nothing had been taken from the car.

Two more mid-week incidents involved cars parked in the Palmer Square lot off Hurlish Street. Part of a silver block was thrown through the left front window of the car of a Maryland resident and a Nassau Street store owner told police that the passenger side window of his car had been smashed and the interior ransacked. In both entries, police said nothing of value was taken.

When asked if police felt the wave of vandalism to parked cars was the work of one person, he replied that it was possible but declined any further comment.

TEXTILE BLDG. ENTERED
On Prospect Avenue, The Textile Research Institute, 601 Prospect Avenue Extension, was entered last week and robbed of equipment valued at approximately $2,800.

Police said that a pane of glass was removed to open a door between 6:30 in the evening and 8 the next morning. Taken was equipment which included a film processor, calculator and Mettler balance.

Chief Anthony Pinelli reported that there had been an unsuccessful attempt to remove other equipment that was secured by power cords.

A home on Roper Road was entered during the weekend and there was evidence, police said, of it being lightly ransacked. It is not known if anything was taken.

The home was entered by first cutting the screen of a living room window and then opening the window.

The center glass door of five such doors in the west entrance to Epstein's in the Princeton Shopping Center was found pushed in at 1:10 Saturday morning but police report that nothing seems to have been disturbed and it is unknown if anything was taken.

The building was checked but police were unable to locate any suspects.

Two Rings Stolen. Two rings valued at $1,300 were stolen after receiving a call at 12:26

Council Wants Neighbors' Opinions About John Street Basketball Court

If you live in the neighborhood of John and Clay Streets, what do you think about the blacktop basketball court on John Street?

Borough Council would like to hear your views, and has scheduled a meeting for next Monday, June 27, at 8 p.m. It will be held in Borough Hall in the downstairs conference room. Council president Barbara Hill will preside.

In past years, residents have told Council they are unhappy about the way the court and the adjoining streets are used in summertime as a meeting place for young people. The level of noise is high and late, residents report.

In response, Council last year sent more police squad cars to the neighborhood and locked the basketball court after dusk — although the lock was often sawed off. Now, Council members would like to know whether these measures helped. If not, do neighbors have any other suggestions?

It is possible, Council members say, that the Borough-owned land where the basketball court is, might be used for something else. For example, the Housing Authority, which operates the Clay Street apartments, needs a community room for Clay Street residents, and space where shop work can be done.

The Borough, on its part, would like more housing units. With Housing Authority money, and a possible Small Cities grant, it might be possible to fill the Authority's needs for more space and provide more housing as well. "Even a couple of units would help — we have a long waiting list," Ms. Hill says.

She points out that there is another basketball court about two blocks away at Community Park, so that basketball players wouldn't suffer if the John Street court were eliminated.

last week from a room in the Nassau Inn between 8:30 in the morning and 6:30 p.m. Police report no signs of forced entry.

Taken were a gold ring with a large ruby valued at $1,000 and a $300 gold ring. Police identified the occupant of the room as a resident of Pittsburgh, Pa.

An attempted entry into a Nassau Street apartment was reported Thursday morning. Police said that screwdriver marks were visible on the apartment door but that no entry had been gained.

TRENTON TRIO CHARGED

In Theft of Rings. Three Trenton juveniles, 17, 16 and 15, have been charged with the theft of five rings valued at $50 from a Princeton jewelry store. Chief Michael Carnevale declined to reveal the store but said that it was not on Nassau Street.

Police became involved after receiving a call at 12:26

One of the intended victims in the bus terminal identified the three suspects as those who had tried to pick the pockets of two victims.

The youths were then taken to police headquarters, where they were found to be in possession of the rings, described as inexpensive gold wedding bands.

TRIES TO BEAT LIGHT
Accident, Ticket Follow. As Dean S. Friderich, 22, of Merrick, N.Y., approached the traffic light at Bayard Lane and Hodge Road last week, it changed from green to red. Instead of stopping, police said, he tried to beat the light, increased his speed to 40 to 45 miles an hour and struck a car operated by Torry J. Luce Jr., 50, of Skillman, in the side as it emerged from Hodge. Mr. Luce was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a separated shoulder. Mr. Friderich was ticketed by Ptl. William Clark for a red light violation.

Hits Parked Truck. Lawrence J. Perks, 43, 55 Cuyler Road, was issued a summons for careless driving last week, after he failed to observe a delivery truck on Bayard Lane and collided with the rear of the parked vehicle.

The truck driver, Mitchell E. Morrison of Spotswood, told Sgt. Thomas Procaacino that he was standing on the truck's tailgate about to jump into the roadway when the collision occurred. His hazard lights were blinking, he said.

The accident took place about 200 feet south of the Cleveland Lane intersection. Police wrote in their report that they will request a re-examination for Mr. Perks.

Passenger Is Injured. A 21-year old passenger was injured in a mishap last week on Caldwell Drive.

Barbara Laznovsky, 81 Bertrand Drive, was taken by the First Aid Squad to the Medical Center for treatment of a fractured shoulder. She told Ptl. Virgil Angelini that she had been a passenger in a car operated by Charles T. Pope, 25, of Brookline, Ma. They had been involved in an argument, she said.

According to a report from the Rescue Squad, Miss Laznovsky was running and hanging on the side of the car which was traveling an estimated 20 miles an hour when Mr. Pope stopped abruptly in front of 21 Caldwell and she was thrown to the roadway. There were no police charges.

Princeton resident lost $80 and jewelry worth $40 when she left her purse unattended while at a party Saturday night at a home on Library Place.

More bicycles were stolen. A $250 model belonging to a student was taken during the weekend from Spelman Hall despite being locked to a railing with a chain, and a Princeton resident reported the theft of a $250 bike on Friday from in front of a Witherspoon Street restaurant. It was unlocked.

A silver, 10-speed bicycle valued at $200 was stolen Thursday from the east side of Princeton High School—it also was unlocked—and a university student told police that the rear tire, seat and water bottle were stolen from his bicycle while it was locked to a bike rack in front of 65 Prospect Avenue. The items are valued at $81.50.

When a Princeton High student went to retrieve his unlocked bike Thursday night after attending graduation ceremonies at the high school, he discovered it had been stolen. He was on his way home on Lytle Street, police said, when he noticed it in the possession of another person.

Sgt. Ronald Holliday and Ptl. Dennis McManimon were on patrol in the area and from their investigation determined from a desk drawer, and a the bicycle had indeed been being blamed for a fire that damaged a box spring and mattress and bed in a room at the Nassau Inn.

Fire Chief William Rodweller said that he entered the room after responding to a police call at 7:03 Sunday evening. The room's occupant told police that she was watching television when she heard a popping sound near the rear of the bed. The lights went out and she saw flames coming from under the bed.

Det. Ronald Holliday, Sgt. William Fitch, Ptl. Anthony Federico and Ptl. Dennis McManimon responded along with the firemen. The occupant was not injured.

Township police report a minor electrical fire at the Clancy Paul computer store in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Police report there was a smell of smoke in the store at 12:06 Thursday morning when a starter in a florescent lighting fixture apparently overheated. No damage, just smoke, police said.

According to Det. Jerry Offredo, the Township Juvenile officer, the youth has been charged with damaging the front door of the Krauthamer home with a log which he took from a woodpile in the front yard. He was later released to his parents.

Det. Offredo reported that other suspects are involved and the investigation is continuing.

New Post Office
The new main post office promised for Princeton will probably be completed within the next year, Postal Service officials said this week.

The building, to cost between $2 and $2.3 million, will be constructed in the Carnegie Center complex off Route One. From Princeton, post office customers will follow Alexander Road to the present post office, continue to the intersection of Alexander and Roszel Road and turn right into Roszel. The building will be on the southeast corner of Roszel — which will be extended — and a new road to be called Carnegie Road.

The contract was awarded last week to Ken-Rad Construction Co., Inc., Tinton Falls. The firm was the lowest of 14 bidders.

responded after an employee called police at 2:20 Thursday afternoon, reporting he had a shoplifter in custody. Pending further investigation, the youth was released to the custody of his parents.

"Our charts show we have not violated Condition Eight in our agreement with the state," Mr. Olexa stated. "That Condition stipulates we make no connections that exacerbate the existing overflow problem."

"We haven't done anything wrong. Is this a public relations ploy, we wonder? It's clear to us we have taken out more (infiltration and inflow) than we have allocated, and that's what the agreement says."

"We assume they did not investigate to find out how much we have already removed from the Harry's Brook area."

"Is Tomorrow Now?"
To the Editor of Town Topics:
If zoning problems appropriate to Collins Development Corporation and the Institute for Advanced Study, and to Routes 206, 92 and 95, have shown us anything at all—perhaps they have shown all of us living in the region, (including Kingston, Rocky Hill, Griggstown, Lawrenceville, Pennington and Hopewell)—that: Princeton Borough and Township residents have no one to question and to answer but themselves for what is a happening here now?

For one thing, it would appear: (1) that we ourselves are generally no longer humble and hardworking here; and (2) that state and local legislation regarding local growth has not kept pace with population pressures and changing values of our people, area, and the times?

Apparently, in this way, as in so many other ways, our legal system no longer "protects" us; but, we have also not been willing to work for it either? (Perhaps, other New Jersey towns such as Summit and Princeton Junction may benefit from our trials and tribulations here?)

For example, can't we learn and from some of the economic pressures that have preceded our problems, in North Jersey and Northern Europe? For example, it took trips to Pennington and Hopewell, Summit and Rocky Hill, and to that: Princeton Borough and Township residents have no one to question and to answer but themselves for what is a happening here now?

For one thing, it would appear: (1) that we ourselves are generally no longer humble and hardworking here; and (2) that state and local legislation regarding local growth has not kept pace with population pressures and

For example, again, may I suggest that the next time our hard-working Planning Board meets (Monday, June 27th), that unless we can come in a serious state of mind—that we just stay home and pay our taxes?

However, on the other hand, it would appear also, that some local residents are now genuinely trying to work for legislation so that we can control creatively, realistically, and unselfishly, the future growth of our once humble, hardworking, talented, and beautiful area?

In summary: if we do not work steadily, seriously, and modestly, for some sort of local and long-ranged legislative process here and now (May and June, 1983)—as we should have done 17-to-20 years ago (1963-1966)—then perhaps we have no one to answer to but ourselves (and our children) for what develops here now (1983-1985) and tomorrow (2000-2020)?

Think Twice.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
It is very easy to clutter up space: Just hand over the initial millions and then fill in the cracks. Leave town quickly as the rush hour traffic will soon bog you down too.

Bulky bridges seem like the only solution to those who can't seem to think further, but if the citizens of Princeton had their way, they know that there can be better solutions for a college town inn. Please think twice, even thrice Mr. Collins.

For Adult Day-Care
Elderly residents of Princeton who meet the income requirements, will be eligible to join a two-day-a-week day-care program to be established in early fall at Redding Circle.

The Family Service Agency announced this week that it has received a grant of $23,000 for the program from the State Division of Youth and Family Services under Title XX. Participants must be eligible under Title XX; that is, individuals must have an income no higher than $10,000 a year.

The program is designed for elderly people living alone or with members of their families. It will give these men and women a chance to get out and socialize twice a week in an organized program. Transportation will be provided if it is needed. Details will be announced as the program is formed.

RETIRES CITED

By Board of Education. Twenty-one teachers and staff members of the Princeton Regional Schools—including five with more than a quarter century of service—were honored by the Board of Education at its business meeting last week.

Those retiring after more than 25 years with the Princeton schools include the following people, whose accomplishments were described in tributes written into the Board's minutes:

Nellie Hunter, John Witherspoon School principal. William Johnson wrote that "Nellie Hunter, Princeton Regional Schools educator for 34 years, retired at the beginning of the 1982-83 school year. She was a dedicated member of the teaching profession and gave of herself to her home town willingly and very effectively."

Ethel Thomas, High School principal. John Sakala wrote that "Dr. Thomas has given 32 years of dedicated service to the parents, students, and staff of the Princeton High School community as a teacher of English and as a guidance counselor. During her tenure, Ethel has continuously enriched herself through travel, through participation in professional organizations, and through study at the university level."

"Ethel's service has not been confined to the Guidance Office. The corridors, the cafeteria, and the classrooms have been her centers of operation. Ethel has been a valuable liaison with the business, professional, and cultural communities. Because of Ethel's diligence, students have been apprised of college opportunities, scholarship availability, and career possibilities."

George Povillaitis. "In his 28 years of service as a teacher of biology, driver education, health education, physical education, and as a coach," Mr. Sakala wrote, Mr. Povillaitis' "gracious manner and his equanimity in times of adversity have been an inspiration to all."

"During George's tenure as an instructor of physical education, the curriculum changed drastically with the inclusion of the lifetime sports program and Project Adventure. George readily adapted to these changes and cooperated fully so that these programs could be implemented effectively."

Helen Povillaitis, Mr. Sakala wrote that Mrs. Povillaitis "has been a model of efficient dedication in her role as secretary and as attendance coordinator during her 28 years at Princeton High School. Her duties have been discharged with alacrity and accuracy. In addition, Helen has been greatly involved in professional organizations."

"In recent years there have been many changes in the attendance policy. In order to expedite these changes, Helen has given much beyond what was required."

Zane Long, Eugene Biringer, principal of the Riverside School, wrote that "Zane Long retires from the Princeton Regional Schools after 27 years of dedicated teaching. He was born on a cattle ranch in Kansas, where he had his early education in a one-room schoolhouse."

"One of the specific things both boys and girls will remember about Mr. Long is their first introduction to woodworking tools in the 'Technology for Children Program.' Many a happy child left school as the proud owner of a colonial wooden bench, a horn book, or cobbler's bench."

Others honored upon their retirement included Jean Friedman, who began her career as an elementary teacher in 1937 and who joined the Princeton staff in 1959. Littlebrook School principal George Petrillo wrote that, "Jean exemplifies the dedicated teacher who gives generously of her time and talent to her profession. She is one of the first to arrive in the morning and one of the last to leave at the end of the school day."

Also Ruth Lotz, who served 21 years as a guidance counselor; Janice Dragnet, 21 years as a school nurse; Sidd Kramer, 21 years as an elementary and middle school music teacher; Edith Caponi, 21 years in the school food services; and Margaret Pazdan, 20 years as school nurse at Littlebrook and seven years before that as a volunteer at the school.

Also Elizabeth Annich, 19 years as an elementary teacher; Dr. Elaine Jass, 17 years as a school psychologist and learning disabilities specialist; Doris Peskin, 15 years as an English teacher; Mauriel Witter, 13½ years as a supplemental teacher; and Katherine Yoder, for 12 years as a teacher of English and home economics at Princeton High School.

Others retiring are Robert Faherty, a custodian at the John Witherspoon School; Robert W. Sinker, instructional aide at Community Park School whose duties included working with children with motor coordination handicaps; Santa T. Zallo, clerk-typist in the personnel office; Connie Aastad, food services; and John Henry Ford, school bus driver.

A PRESIDENTIAL CHAT
With Presidential Scholar, Arella Gross, Presidential scholar and member of the class of 1983 at Princeton High School, spent 20 minutes last Thursday with President Reagan at the President's in-visitation. The subject of their learned that there are "many conversations — Ms. Gross roads to Jerusalem" and that said the President did most of the "right" is by no means the talking — was the nuclear always clear or certain.

FIREWORKS!

During the conversation, the President accepted her petition for a nuclear freeze, which bore the names of 14 of the 141 Presidential scholars, but later he told the scholars that "Americans Princeton as the nation's capital — October, 1783, when the Continental Congress met in Nassau Hall."

The annual Princeton Pops Concert and Fireworks, sponsored by the Princeton area chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League and the Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the Princeton University fields east of Palmer Stadium and Jadwin Gym.

Gates will open at 5:30 for the picnicers, and the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will gather on its mobile SoundStage — gift of the day, July 5.

FIREWORKS!

Sunday, July 3. Fireworks will rocket into the sky on Sunday, July 3, celebrating not on the country's birthday, but also the Bicentennial Year of the nation's capital — October, 1783, when the Continental Congress met in Nassau Hall.

The annual Princeton Pops Concert and Fireworks, sponsored by the Princeton area chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League and the Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the Princeton University fields east of Palmer Stadium and Jadwin Gym.

Gates will open at 5:30 for the picnicers, and the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will gather on its mobile SoundStage — gift of the day, July 5.

Parking is free at Jadwin and other parking lots off Washington Road. No picnicking in the parking area.

If you plan to picnic, you should take your own food. Popsicles and soda will be on sale, through the Greater Princeton Jaycees. Take blankets and camp-chairs, also, but leave your pets at home: none will be allowed in the field.

If it rains, the concert will be given in Jadwin Gym the same night (but no picnicking in the Gym) and fireworks will be set off after dark on Tuesday, July 5.

Buy tickets at most banks, branch banks and savings and loan offices in the Princeton area, Cox's Store, Ellsworth's liquor store in Princeton Junction, M. Epstein's, Karelia Imports, the Palmer Square kiosk, the business office of the Princeton University Store and Titles Unlimited.

FOR TOXIC STUDIES

University Grant. A grant of $100,000 for the study of toxic waste pollution has been received by Princeton University from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

The study, to be conducted by the University's Hazardous Waste Research Program, will look for better scientific data to serve as the foundation for toxic waste policies, and for cleaning up disposal sites.

One project will focus on the indoor air pollution that comes from contaminated groundwater. Inhaling volatile chemicals while taking a shower, cooking, or washing clothes and dishes in contaminated water may seriously threaten health, according to Joseph Highland and Robert Harris, co-directors of the program.

The second project will examine the way toxic chemicals migrate through soils, and how various factors affect the rate of this migration toward groundwater. These studies can provide guidelines for planning dump clean-ups that will protect groundwater without wasting money on excessive procedures, Dr. Harris said.

A third study will look for a more accurate and comprehensive definition of the word "hazardous" than the one now used by the Environmental Protection Agency. According to Dr. Highland, many industrial wastes now known to be toxic or hazardous are not covered by the EPA's present definitions.

Using the grant money, the researchers will do experiments they hope will "significantly increase" the accuracy of the toxicity tests that are used by the EPA to determine what wastes should be regulated.

"We are particularly interested in this research," said Scott McVay, executive director of the Geraldine Dodge Foundation, "because New Jersey produces more chemical wastes and has more hazardous landfills targeted for cleanup than any other state in the nation."

The Hazardous Waste Research Program at the University was started in 1979. Studies are conducted by financial, ecological and social standpoints. Warning that once Montgomery Woods is developed, the only place the highway will be built is on the Princeton-Montgomery town line, he urged Committee to do everything in its power to prevent its construction. Taking a slightly different tack, Claudette Adams urged Committee to "mend fences with Montgomery." She spoke of the anger at Princeton that was evident at the Montgomery Planning Board meeting that approved the Calton Homes development.

She also produced two letters, written by Princeton Planning Board members in June and July of 1979 to Montgomery planners. The first notes the deletion of I-92 from the Montgomery Circulation Plan, asks for its replacement and talks of preserving it on the Princeton-Montgomery line. Later there seems to have been a change of mind, and the second letter seeks to resolve the differences with "appropriate officials of Montgomery."

Ms. Adams neighbor, Louis Little, the one Princeton resident who will lose his house to the straddle route of S-92, suggested that Commissioner Sheridan should disqualify himself from deciding this issue because there are affected lots in the area which were owned by his former law partner, John F. McCarthy Jr. He also suggested that if the DOT was willing to bend the highway to curve around Calton Homes, it could also bend it around the Herrontown hill.

Mr. Little supported Ms. Adams plea for cooperation between the two municipalities in resolving the issue. "Some way needs to be found to get around the emotionalism of the Montgomery Planning Board," he said. "We have a luxury here: a place to build a highway where there aren't yet any houses. All of us are willing to pay something for a compromise that makes sense."

Residents have until Thursday to decide whether or not to appeal the Montgomery Planning Board's decision.

Judith Nielsen of the Princeton Environmental Commission took a still different tack by pointing out S-92 will bisect the largest piece of remaining farmland in Cranbury to the ultimate loss of yet another piece of New Jersey agriculture. She also questioned whether the highway will relieve traffic or generate more of it, as freeways have in California.

Mayor Pike had scheduled a meeting with Commissioner Sheridan on Thursday, which has now been changed to Friday. It was pointed out that under state law DOT had 120 days in which to object to the Calton Homes project, but that evidently it chose not to. In addition, N.J. law says that the DOT "may" file a map showing a proposed roadway with the municipal clerk, something that has not been done for the route that straddles Princeton.

Attorney George Fisher, sitting in for the absent Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer, advised Committee that deciding whether or not to file an appeal in order to stay the highway "was not an easy issue." Committee appears to be buying time by taking the appeal, as well as maneuvering into position, should it decide to take the matter to a higher court.

PEOPLE In The News

Edith M. Caponi of Ewing Street plans to retire this month from the Princeton Regional Schools after 21 years as a cafeteria aid. For the past 10 years she was at John Witherspoon School.

Mrs. Caponi, 59, is a native of Princeton who attended St. Paul's School here. She began working in the food service field in the 1940s at the Flanders Hotel in Ocean City. She also worked for a time at the Boca Raton, Fla., Hotel. She expects to spend her retirement traveling, gardening, being involved with senior citizen groups and enjoying her grandchildren.

Ulrich C. Knoepfelmacher, FitzRandolph Road, professor of English at Princeton University, is a recipient of a Humanities Fellowship Award from the Rockefeller Foundation for a project entitled, "The Literary Identification of Childhood: the 19th Century and After."

Prof. Knoepfelmacher's name was inadvertently omitted from the mention of three other Rockefeller Foundation award recipients published in last week's TOWN TOPICS. As he notes, since there were 45 finalist altogether, out of 1500 applicants, 10 percent of that group were Princeton residents. This, he says, is a rather nice statistic since neither New York City or Boston did better.

Hamilton College lacrosse goalie Jeff Olsson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Olsson of 115 Dodds Lane, finished 15th nationally in save percentage, according to final Division III statistics released by the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association. He stopped 66.4 percent of the shots he faced as the Continentals posted a 12-2 mark, the second best record in the 34-year history of lacrosse at Hamilton.

He is an economics major who will begin his junior year this fall.

Dr. Phyllis M. Frakt of Jefferson Road, associate-dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Science at Rider College, has been appointed associate provost. The appointment is effective July 1 and is in addition to her duties as associate dean. As associate provost, she will also be a member of the President's Council.

Dr. Frakt, who also holds the rank of associate professor of political science, came to Rider in 1974 as an assistant professor. She is a specialist in comparative politics of Europe and the Third World. She received her B.A. degree in political science from Douglass College and her Ph.D. and M.A. degrees from Rutgers University.

Dr. Frank A. Kierman of Lawrenceville is one of four Rider College faculty members who were granted emeritus status upon retirement at the end of the 1982-83 academic year.

Dr. Kierman, a specialist in Chinese history, joined the Rider faculty in 1971 after having served as director of research in Chinese linguistics at Princeton University for four years. He earned his Ph.D. from the University of Washington.

Anthony Basile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony R. Basile Sr. of Pennington and a student at the Arthur R. Sypek

Vocational School, has been awarded a grant to attend the career orientations for high school juniors at Rochester Institute of Technology this July.

Mr. Basile is a printing student at Sypek and is considering printing as a career. He will be a senior at Hopewell Valley High School this fall and will also continue his printing studies at the Sypek Center.

Catherine R. Keuffel, of 2664 Main Street, Lawrenceville, received a varsity letter in lacrosse at Bowdoin College, while Lea Erdman of 13 Gordon Way earned junior varsity numerals in lacrosse. Both have just finished their freshman year. Miss Keuffel is a graduate of Stuart Country Day. Miss Erdman of Princeton Day School.

Two Pennington residents have been named to the Dean's List at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute for the spring semester. They are Mark R. DeLuca of 108 Howard Way, a freshman majoring in chemistry, and Luc Yves Murphy of 138 King George Road, a sophomore majoring in physics.

William H. Short, FAIA, who specializes in preservation architecture, has been named an advisor to the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Mr. Short will serve as one of two New Jersey representatives chosen to advise the National Trust on statewide preservation. The National Trust is the only national, non-profit, private organization chartered by Congress to encourage public participation and Mr. Short's "Cambodian in the preservation of sites, diary, 1979." The second buildings and objects signifi- Death parts I and II were eant in American history and chosen.

Ten newspapers of restoration and adaptive use. His preservation projects, notably conversion of the Guernsey Hall into condominiums, have won numerous design awards and have been widely published in preservation books and journals.

Because of his contributions to the profession of architecture in the area of historic preservation, he was elected to the American Institute of Architects' College of Fellows in 1982. Mr. Short also serves on the American Institute of Architects' and New Jersey Society of Architects Committee on the Preservation of Historic Buildings.

Adair Small, R.N., head nurse at Familyborn birth center in North Brunswick and a resident of Broadmead, has been accepted into the primary care nurse practitioner program in Ob/Gyn nurse midwifery at the University of California in San Diego.

Mrs. Small received her B.S. in nursing at the University of Rochester in 1968. Her nursing experience has focused on public health and labor and delivery. For the past 10 years she has been an ASPQ certified Lamaze instructor and has most recently taught childbirth classes at Familyborn, where she has worked since 1981.

Her role at the birth center has evolved from staff nurse to head nurse, primarily assisting at births and providing postpartum care and instruction. She is married to Ken Small, professor of economics at Princeton, who is leaving to teach at the University of California at Irvine.

Joyce Carol Oates and Edmund Keeley are among the writers whose works will be featured in a new project to bring fiction back to the pages of newspapers.

The two Princeton University faculty members are among 90 authors from 32 states and the District of Columbia who were winners in a national competition to select stories for the Syndicated Fiction Project. The project is a cooperative effort for the Arts Literature Program and the PEN American Center, a major writers' service organization.

Both authors had two winning entries. Miss Oates' "8:15 a.m." and "Our Time" courage, public participation and Mr. Keeley's "Cambodian in the preservation of sites, diary, 1979." The second buildings and objects signifi- Death parts I and II were eant in American history and chosen.

The system uses a diamond stylus to sense video and audio information stored in the grooves of a specially made plastic disc. Begun at RCA Laboratories in 1965, the system was commercially introduced by RCA in the United States in 1981 and will make its debut in the United Kingdom this fall.

CELEBRATION PLANNED
For Anniversary of Church. During and after the worship service, Sunday, Nassau Presbyterian Church will celebrate the tenth anniversary of its founding on June 24, 1973.

The event was actually a reunion of a church that divided in 1847 when some members of old First Church, on the site of Nassau Church, sought more zealous expression of their religion and established Second Presbyterian Church, later called St. Andrews.

Reunion had been considered for some time, and in 1973, when both churches were without ministers, the time was ripe. Led by banners and choirs, a march of the two congregations from their respective buildings brought them together at the entrance to the University by Holder Hall and a procession into Alexander Hall ended in a colorful and moving service.

A sunny day enhanced the festivities which concluded with a balloon-filled reception in Holder Court following the service.

The service this Sunday will repeat music and litany of the original celebration. Elsa Granade, formerly of St. Andrews; Arthur Link, formerly of First; and Jeff Saddington, one of the first members of Nassau, will participate.

Wallace Alston, Nassau Church's first minister, chosen by a committee of representatives from both previous churches, will preach, and a resume by Arthur Link of highlights of the life of Nassau Church will be recorded in the bulletin.

At a festive coffee hour afterward a show of slides taken during reunion will recall to participants "A Day to Remember."

As permanent mementos a stone plaque noting the event will be placed in the church portico and the pew used at St. Andrews by Woodrow Wilson, who was consecutively a member of both churches, will be placed on the main floor.

Visitors are invited to join the celebration.

SUMMER HOURS, EVENTS
At Kingston Church, Kingston Presbyterian Church will hold its regular worship service at 10 a.m. each Sunday morning, beginning this Sunday when the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

During the month of July, Kingston Presbyterian will host Wednesday evening picnics, open to all. Participants are asked to bring meat to grill for themselves and their family and something to share. A variety of activities is planned for all ages from three to 103. The picnics will begin at 6.

The church will hold a Vacation Bible School during the weeks of July 18-22 and 25-29. Beginning at 9 each morning and lasting until 11:30, there will be two Bible-centered weeks of singing, crafts and fun for three-year olds through those children who have completed the 4th grade.

A Bible Camp will be held during the same period for 5th and 6th graders. The Camp will feature hiking, sports, nature exploration, swimming and other activities. Call the church office, 921-8895, for more details or to register.

The 48-member group includes 36 instrumentalists (including a full string section) and eight vocalists. The group is currently on a 75-day tour of the United States, Western Europe and Bermuda. Blending contemporary gospel music, anthems and hymn arrangements, the program entitled "Praise His Name and See It Happen" will feature excerpts from a new musical on the life of Joseph called "Dreamer" as well as several special instrumental arrangements.

Admission is free and hymn sheets will be distributed at the door.

Dale and Debbie Everett of Niagara Falls will be at Nassau Christian Center in a "Miracle Ministry" of healing beginning Sunday and continuing "for an indefinite period of time." They will be at Nassau services at 10:30 and 6:30 and weekday night services at 7:30 Tuesday through Friday.

Robert Dragert will discuss growing your own fruits and vegetables; Carol Goff will explain the fine points of canning, freezing and drying; and a third speaker will give practical suggestions for storing a one-year supply of food for a family.

Dr. Muriel Gardiner's Book, "Code Name Mary," Recalls Her Life as Heroine of the Austrian Underground in the 1930s

Living quietly among us, standing in line at the post office, passing on the sidewalk, are certain individuals whose lives have been truly out of the ordinary.

They are people who have had unusual adventures, been involved in heroic activities, lived life more fully than most. We might never know of them or their deeds if it were not for a happening or an event that has thrust them into the limelight. Such a person is Muriel Gardiner and such an event is the publication of her book, "Code Name Mary: Memoirs of an American Woman in the Austrian Underground."

The publication of the book in this country by Yale University Press several years after the central portion appeared in Austria and France has renewed speculation that Dr. Gardiner was Julia of the chapter in Lillian Hellman's "Pentimento" memoirs which was made into a movie starring Vanessa Redgrave. In it Hellman describes her life-long friendship with Julia, a wealthy American woman who "had left college, gone to Oxford, moved on to medical school in Vienna and had become a patient-pupil of Freud's."

Furthermore Julia is involved in the illegal Socialist causes in pre-war Vienna.

The description clearly evokes but does not precisely fit Muriel Gardiner's own life. The "Pentimento" story goes on to describe a train trip Hellman made from Paris to Moscow in 1937 by way of Berlin to deliver a large sum of money concealed in a candy box at Julia's request for underground purposes.

Only One "Mary". After the publication of "Pentimento," when she was besieged with cables and letters pointing out the similarities, Dr. Gardiner wrote to the director of the Documentation Archives of the Austrian Resistance and ascertained that "Mary," her Austrian code name, was the only American woman actively involved in the anti-Fascist, anti-Nazi underground at the time.

Although she and Hellman have never met, she thinks the link between them may have been their mutual friend and lawyer Wolf Schwabacher.

It was to Mr. Schwabacher's farmhouse in Pennington that Dr. Gardiner moved from New York City in 1940 with her daughter Connie and husband Joseph Buttinger, leader of the Austrian Socialist underground whom she hid in her Vienna studio for three years. She later gave the farm-husband build on the Mack Brunswick, and became so interested in the process that she entered medical school with the intention of training as an analyst as a foundation for future teaching.

But that is getting ahead of a story that goes far beyond the tale of Julia and is well worth re-telling for the quality of life it reveals.

Youngest daughter of a well-to-do meat packing family in Chicago, Muriel Morris grew up in luxury, privilege and some loneliness. She developed a keen social and political conscience at an early age—she writes of organizing a suffragette parade at age 10 and at Wellesley College she founded the Inter-collegiate Liberal League, later called the National Student Forum.

She envisioned a life in education, but before studying literature at Oxford in preparation for teaching she spent a year studying at the American School of Classical Studies in Rome. She traveled all around Europe, sometimes, she writes, sleeping on a blanket by a lake before the time of sleeping bags. She went on archaeological digs in the Middle East and lived a life rich in music, literature and stimulating friends, while at the same time keenly aware of the political and social upheaval going on in Europe.

For personal reasons which she glides over in the book, she decided in the spring of 1926 to group that sought to go to Vienna to explore the possibility of psychoanalysis with Freud. She was analysed instead by a pupil and col- and false passports back and league of Freud's, Dr. Ruth forth across the border between Czechoslovakia and Austria. After a round-up of the entire Central Committee of the Socialist Party, which miraculously spared its leader, Joseph Buttinger, she hid him for three years in a small apartment she had rented in order to be able to study undisturbed by her child.

She writes of purchasing a corset—the only one she ever wore in her life—in order to conceal as many as seven smuggled passports taped to her body. She tells of a three-mile hike up a mountain in the rain at night to deliver altered passports as means of escape to comrades who had made a slip in the precautions everyone had to observe or risk endangering themselves or others.

Modest Telling. These exploits and others are described in such an understated way in "Code Name Mary" they leave the reader with the impression that they are but the tip of the iceberg. After the Anschluss, the annexation of Austria by the German Reich in March, 1938, Dr. Gardiner succeeded in getting Joseph Buttinger and her daughter and a companion-nurse to safety, but she stayed on in Vienna for another three months, ostensibly to finish her medical studies.

However this was a period of even greater activity arranging for affidavits and providing funds to enable their comrades to leave the country. Five days after she left for Paris in June, 1938, she received a letter warning her not to return to Vienna, the Gestapo were searching for her and believed her to be a foreign agent.

In 1980 Dr. Gardiner was awarded the Austrian Cross of Honor, First Class, at a ceremony at the Austrian Consulate in New York. At the ceremony it was said that those who were present—and there were many who were films of the 1940s, director Taylor Hackford's drama is about two characters who haven't many options in life. Richard Gere plays Zack Mayo, a tough loner who wants to better himself by entering Naval Aviation OCS on Washington's Puget Sound. Debra Winger is one of the local "townies" who dream of marrying an officer and escaping their lower middle-class world. She and her best friend meet Gere and his best buddy (David Keith) at a dance, and the two couples begin their contrasting affairs.

Equally central to "An Officer and a Gentleman" is the basic training of Zack under the tutelage of a fierce black drill instructor, Louis Gossett Jr., who won an Oscar this past spring for his performance. As a man afraid of being loved, afraid of breaking his solitude, Gere (star of the current hit "Breathless") turns in a performance which confirms his reputation as the screen's newest sex symbol.

The co-feature with "An Officer and a Gentleman" will be Lawrence Kasdan's "Body Heat." A slick and moody thriller right out of the Cain-Chandler school of tough cinema which reigned in the '40s, it marked the directorial debut for Kasdan, whose credentials include the scripts for both "Raiders of the Lost Ark" and "The Empire Strikes Back." The setting is steamy, sultry southern Florida, where William Hurt (of "Eyewitness" and "Altered States" fame) plays a smalltown lawyer who becomes involved with a rich man's neglected wife (Kathleen Turner). Before long, the pair is planning how to get rid of the cuckolded husband (Richard Crenna) and get hold of his money. Sparks fly, insurance claims are debated, friendships fray, and the lovers quarrel and part explosively. "Body Heat" will be shown each evening at 9:45 p.m.

McCarter points out that both R-rated films contain American Boychoir School begins its 46th season this summer with two sessions. The first will be held July 3-16, the second July 17-30. Girls and boys ages 6-13 are offered an unusual combination of a recreational-sports camp and a musical experience. A few spaces remain in both sessions, either for day or boarding campers.

Camp Albemarle is under the direction of Anton Armstrong, a staff member for 13 years and director for the past four summers. Mr. Armstrong is director of the Grand Rapids, Mich., Symphonic Choir and an instructor of music at Calvin College. Also returning to the camp will be Barbara Barstow, instrumental teacher, Nancy Thorne, Orff-Schulwerk teacher, and Todd Destigter, camp program director. Campers have the use of the playing fields and swimming pool on the grounds of Albemarle, the 52-room mansion that houses the American Boychoir. Swimming lessons and a free swim are offered daily by a certified Water Safety Instructor. Campers also enjoy a wide variety of sports and activities as well as an arts and crafts program.

ART In Princeton

BUCKS ART FEATURED
At Trenton Museum. Only one major American Impressionist painter devoted most of his art to depicting scenes of the poor and their environment. Thirty-four paintings by this artist are featured in an exhibition, "Robert Spencer, Impressionist of Working Class Life," in the main galleries of the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton through Sunday, August 28.

Spencer was born in 1879 in Nebraska but for most of his adult life, from 1906 until his death in 1931, he lived and worked in towns close to the Delaware River — Frenchtown and Lambertville in New Jersey and Point Pleasant and New Hope in Pennsylvania. Many of the mills and rural tenements he portrayed are renderings of scenes in these communities.

Spencer's images of the poor and the lower classes have at times been likened to those of the "Ashcan School," who depicted the life of New York's lower classes. Thomas Folk, guest curator for the exhibition, points out in his introduction to the catalogue that "Spencer more sensitively portrayed the tedium and melancholy of the life of the poor than the artists of the 'Ashcan School.'"

EXHIBITS

Calligraphy by Alex Kerr will be on exhibit at Educational Testing Service, Lounge B, Conant Hall, Carter and Rosedale Roads, from June 23 to July 29. Hours are 9 to 11 a.m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. daily (closed weekends). The exhibit was organized by Franz G. Geierhasas, director of International Print Society, New Hope, Pa.

Mr. Kerr's exposure to calligraphy and the Chinese language began in the first grade at a small private school in Alexandria, Va. At age 12 his family moved to Yokohama, Japan, where he began to write with a brush under the tutelage of a fellow Chinese student age 15.

While at Yale he majored in Japanese Studies and continued to study Japanese at Keio University, Japan. From 1974-77 he majored in Chinese Studies at Oxford and studied Tibetan and Tibetan calligraphy as well. After Oxford he returned to Oomoto, Japan, to live.

Muriel Gardiner

not-owed their lives to Muriel Gardiner.

Fascinating as these activities are to read about nearly 50 years later, they are by no means the sum and substance of her life. Married to Joseph Buttinger in Paris in 1939 and after some difficulty able to come with him to the United States soon thereafter, she and he became deeply in-involved in international refugee work, alternately making long trips to Paris for the International Rescue Committee. Their New York apartment became home to little English boys, Austrians, Germans, Hungarians and even Russians.

Dr. Gardiner initially worked as a psychiatric consultant at two New York nursery schools before taking her internship at Mercer Medical Center and residency at Marlboro State Prison. After further training as a member of the Institute of the Philadelphia Association for Psychoanalysis she became a full time practicing analyst. She was, she says, the first psychoanalyst in practice between Newark and Philadelphia in 1948.

After six years she gradually curtailed her practice and began teaching at Rutgers in the Graduate School of Social Work and at the Institute and Diane Dilemno, Box 27, Cedar Road, Whitehouse Station, both on June 13;

She also wrote a book called "The Deadly Innocents: Portraits of Children Who Kill," which far from being a collection of case studies are appealingly written biographies of youthful offenders who are victims as surely as those whom they murdered.

A Life Well-Written. At a publication party given in her honor by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association, James Gaffney, director, spoke of Dr. Gar-diner as that "rare individual" whose "feats are the dreams of most mortals." He paid tribute to her humanism, sensitivity for people and love of nature. Her book, he said is a "well-written life account that is as rare as a well-lived life."

TWIN BOYS ARE BORN

At Medical Center. Twin sons were born to Joseph and Julie Ferrar of 1229 Dean's Lane, Monmouth Junction, on June 14 at Princeton Medical Center. The twins are among 11 boys and 10 girls born there during the week ending June 16.

Sons were also born to Mark and Karen Galley, 8 Vahlsing Way, Robbinsville, June 11; William and Linda DeStefano, Box 229A RD1, Hopewell, June 12; Vincent and Eileen Cimino, 11 Pembroke Court, Lawrenceville, June 27; and "Charlottesville," a true story about the Olympics — in 1981.

Sports Fans! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

Did you know there have been 2 movies about sports which won the Academy Award as Best Picture of the Year? Which 2 sports movies won the Academy Award? ... They were "Rocky" — about boxing — in 1976, and "Chariots of Fire" — a true story about the Olympics — in 1981.

When the first U.S. Open golf tournament was held in 1895, it was open to ANYONE who wanted to play ... That's where the name "Open" came from ... There were no qualifications for playing ... Despite being open to anyone, only 11 golfers took part in that first U.S. Open.

I'll bet you didn't know that you'll never have your back against the wall if your insurance is with S.D. & B.

Here's one that may surprise you ... Of ALL the pitchers in big league baseball history, who walked the most batters? ... Answer is Nolan Ryan who set a new career strikeout record this year — but it's not generally known that Ryan has walked over 1,900 batters in his career, and no other pitcher has ever come close to issuing that many walks.

Princeton University freshman it a little easier for the victors team and led the Tigers in by committing four errors. homers with three, has Mike Petrone took the loss.

"Arendas was scheduled to pitch against Broad Street Park when we scored 10 runs and I can guarantee you that nobody in the league is going to score 10 runs off Arendas," observed Bender.

A former Broad Street player himself, who was an assistant baseball coach at Mercer County Community College this past season, Bender estimates that the injury will cost Arendas three to four turns on the mound.

Double Loss For Bender. Saturday, Post 76 was ahead of Mitchell-Davis, 12-10, when M-D exploded for five runs in the eighth, combining a double, single, three walks, a sacrifice fly, another single by former Hun School standout Martin Summers and an error. Chris Hunninghake had a pair of doubles for Post 76 and losing pitcher Mike Colston added another two-bagger among Princeton's eight hits. Colston also stroked a pair of singles to make his first game for the 76ers this season a memorable one at the plate. Arendas, Jeff Enslin, and Dino D'Angelo also singled for Post 76.

The day marked a double setback for Bender. He was slapped with a three-day suspension following an argument two days earlier with plate umpire Joe Caruso on a called strike to Brian Lenox. Caruso forfeited the game to Broad Street Park with one out remaining when he left the Trenton High playing grounds. Bender filed a protest but the outcome stood.

The previous day, Post 76 suffered a one-run loss to Hamilton when Hamilton's Chris Harding's two-out single in the eighth sent Jim Provenzano, who had tripled, home with the winning run.

The 76ers had scored both their runs in the fourth on an error and singles by Dan Arendas, Scott Ellis and Mike Carnevale. Mike Petrone's double was the only extra-base hit for Princeton. Bill Bastedo went the distance for the 76ers and took the loss. Jim Eberson got the win.

In the Broad Street Park contest, Post 76 jumped to a 4-0 lead on Scott Ellis's grand slam in the first inning. Princeton added six more runs in the fifth on a three-run homer by Arendas, Enslin's RBI single and a two-run triple by Lenox.

BSP, meanwhile, was wielding a big bat of its own (each team had 11 hits) as it pushed four runs across in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Princeton made Application are available at the Tennis Center or by calling 989-6533. Deadline for entry is July 3.

ANDY'S MIKE'S WIN
In Women's Softball. The Princeton Women's Softball League completed its fourth week of play last week with a pair of one-sided scores, as Andy's Tavern blanked Army-Navy Store, 15-0, and league-leading Mike's Tavern crushed Conte's Bar, 16-2.

Andy's needed only five innings as the 15-run rule was invoked, but still recorded 17 hits and scored in four of the five innings, including seven runs in the first.

Pitcher Mary Foxx, who had two hits in four at bats and scored three wins, slammed the door against winless Army-Navy, tossing a no-hitter, the league's first this season.

Hitting well for Andy's (2-2) were Sue Presti who had three hits and three RBIs and Cindy Nelson, Donna Woodruff, Ann Dowling, Dee Ellis, Lisa Schmidt and Patti Dowling — all stroking two hits apiece.

Mike's also played seven runs in the first and added six more in the sixth as it banged out 19 hits. Lorraine Duthie tossed a three-hitter for the easy win. Mike's raised its record to 4-0, while Conte's (2-0) fell into a second-place tie with Andy's.

Sallie Toscano counted a grand slam among her two hits, while Grace Durland was a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate and scored three runs. Michelle Morgan rapped three hits for the victors, including a pair of triples.

Collecting two hits each were Dee Pearce, Kathy Shillaber and Elizabeth Zing. For Conte's, Barbie Falcon's two hits and one by Peggy Wood accounted for the three yielded by Duthie.

UPSET ENDS SEASON
Nautilus Finishes 4-2-2. The Princeton Nautilus Women's Soccer team ended its season last week in the Garden State League by tying the Freehold Flames and upsetting the Perennial league leader, Hillside Americans. Nautilus finished its season with a 4-2-2 record.

Hillside came right back in the second half, scoring two goals on some crisp passing to knot the score but that was as far as the favored American got.

Nautilus grabbed a 5-2 win when Karen Parker scored on an assist from Carey Crutcher and Crutcher added two more unassisted goals.

Much of the credit for the upset belongs to the Nautilus defensive play of Tracey Parker, Julie Converse and Karen Petruska. Kari Spaeth returned to play keeper for the victors and had several outstanding saves to frustrate the Hillside attack.

Against Freehold, Crutcher scored on an assist from Debby Wickendham and Kris Veale on an assist by Jeri Balmer.

Crutcher and Melanie Nosal shared the goal tending duties. Later when Nosal switched to forward, she just missed scoring the winning goal when her shot bounced off the crossbar.

The Nautilus team will continue to practice informally during the summer before resuming league play in the fall.

Anyone interested in joining the team should call Anne Knudson-Fitzpatrick at 921-6965.

THREE ARE TIED
For Men's Softball Lead. Princeton Nautilus with a 9-2 victory over Downtown A.C. last week tied Mike's Tavern and Conte's for the lead in the Princeton Men's Softball League. All are 9-2, while PIASC and Hinkson's are tied for second at 8-3.

There will be doubleheaders on Sunday for each team starting at 2 at Community Park, Valley Road and Marquand Park fields. Some of the key matchups will be Nautilus vs. PIASC, Hinkson's vs. C Sq. C and Conte's vs. PIASC.

Against Downtown A.C., Nautilus jumped to a 6-1 lead but A.C. closed the margin by scoring four runs in the sixth.

Nautilus retaliated in the same inning with six more runs to put the game on ice. Jamie Petrone, Ken Brovik and Mike Shillaber homered for Nautilus to spark the offense. Shillaber also contributing a triple. Jack Petrone doubled and drove in a pair of runs for the victors, as Greg Kline got the win.

Pacing the losers at the plate was Bob Kesios who was a perfect 3-for-3 and two RBIs. Jim Lennon added two hits off Kline.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

SUMMER STORMS & LIGHTNING DAMAGE with Sam DeTuro Woodwinds Associates

Lightning is one of the most awesome forces in nature's arsenal of destructive powers. A lightning bolt may contain over 100,000,000 volts of electricity and measure 200,000 amperes. It is a power that is both vast and mysterious. A study of 1,000 claims undertaken by the Harvard, Illinois-based Lightning Protection Institute found in over 11% of the cases lightning first struck a tree, then skipped or side flashed over to a house close by. The primary target of lightning are tall or isolated buildings, trees, telephone poles and other tall objects of wood, metal or other conductive materials.

Lightning is a major culprit and destroyer of those trees which people care about most — large, old shade and specimen trees of both sentimental and monetary value. It is more likely that a lone tree will be struck or the tallest in a grove, or most disturbing of all, a tree close to buildings where wiring or plumbing could serve as a ground conductor. Lightning protection systems are a worthwhile precaution for any tree of historical interest or high value.

Shade trees within 10 feet of a building that have branches overhanging part of the roof should have lightning protection. Studies indicate that deep-rooted or decayed trees are more susceptible to lightning injury. A tree beside an avenue or a body of water may also face a greater danger of being struck. Different species of trees are also more liable to be hit by lightning. The more commonly injured species include poplar, pine, elm, maple, spruce, ash and oak. Some species such as holly, horsechestnut, beech and birch are seldom victims. If you are concerned about lightning protection and your trees, please give WOODWINDS (924-3500) a call. We'll be glad to advise you.

open with a free public reception in the Library Gallery on Mercer County Community College's West Windsor Campus on Friday from 7 to 9.

The exhibit, funded by a grant from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission, will continue through Thursday, August 18.

Gallery hours are 9 to 9, Mondays through Thursdays, and 9 to 5, Fridays. Admission is free.

This juried event was open to artists 18 years of age or older who are currently living, or employed in Mercer County.

Purchase awards have been granted to winning artists and their art work will be added to the permanent collection of the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission.

One of the five artists selected for purchase prizes is Maxmillian Hayden of Princeton, whose work is entitled "Manet's Olympia's Golden Section Gown Away."

Connie Bracci-McIndoe of Hopewell won a merit award for "Network," as did Karen Foote of Princeton for "Pompeii Train" and Lisa Martin of Hopewell for "Quilted Flag."

Ten additional artists won honorable mention. Among them are Leonora Florian Bernard of Princeton, Judith Weller Hunt of Princeton, Betty Jane Lee of Princeton, and Dana Powsner of Princeton.

'AIRPLANE' ON VIEW
At Library, The Public Library will have a demonstration videodisc showing of the film "Airplane" starring Roland Hays and Julie Hagerty on Wednesday, June 29, at 10:30 a.m. and again at noon.

The 88-minute color comedy, a spoof on airline dramas in general, relates the story of how members of an airline's crew become ill with food poisoning and a passenger takes over the controls.

DRIVE UNDERWAY
For Disaster Relief Funds, The Emergency Disaster Fund Campaign for the Princeton Area Chapter, American Red Cross, seeks funds to continue providing emergency disaster relief.

Letters asking for donations have been sent to corporations, businesses, and community residents in the greater Princeton area. Notices have also been placed in newspapers calling the public's attention to this nationwide effort.

According to James Richmond, chairman of the campaign, 4343 disasters have occurred throughout the country in the last 10 months. These include major disasters, fires, transportation accidents and tragedies caused by chemical spills and environmental pollution. Red Cross has brought immediate aid to the victims of these disasters.

Although residents of the communities serviced by the Princeton Red Cross have not had a major disaster in recent years, Mr. Richmond feels this is all the more reason to help these victims who have been hit with hardship.

LIFE SAVING COURSE
At YMCA, The Princeton YMCA has announced two new course offerings for its eight-week Summer Session. Red Cross Senior Lifesaving will be offered Tuesday evenings from 6:30-9. On Thursday evenings from 7-8, a beginning swim instruction course for adults will be held.

Other courses in the summer session, which begins Monday, will include Distance Cycling for Beginners, Oil Painting, Aikido, Youth Karate, and swim instruction for children. Registration will continue through the first week of classes, as openings last. Call the YMCA, 924-4497, for more information.

ZONING BOARD MEETS
Three Applications Pending, The Borough Zoning Board will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. to hear three applications involving residences. Dr. Stephen M. Felton has requested a variance to construct an addition at 21 Wiggins Street and to use the house as both a doctor's office and a residence. William and Pauline Egan, 245 Library Place, seek permission to build an addition to their house.

Richard Altman has applied to install a swimming pool in the backyard at 29 Hamilton Avenue, and needs a variance for setback and coverage requirements.

Rampage of Vandalism by Two Juveniles Causes Thousands of Dollars of Damage

Two days after it happened, Princeton police are still trying to add up the cost of a rampage of vandalism by two young juveniles that had police officers here shaking their heads at the scope of its violence and destruction.

In the Township, where there was extensive damage to Princeton University property and to ten parked cars, Juvenile Officer Jerry Offredo "guestimated" the damage to be in excess of $5,000 and closer to $10,000. In the Borough, Chief Michael Carnevale declined to estimate the damage where more than 60 cars and 23 bicycles were vandalized. "It's going to be mind boggling," Chief Carnevale allowed. The cost to replace slashed tires alone was estimated at $6,000.

A 12-year old Borough resident and a 13-year old Kendall Park youth were arrested Sunday morning in Palmer Stadium by Sgt. David Potts and Ptl. Robert Nielsen. Both have been charged with multiple counts of criminal mischief and released to their parents, pending action by a Mercer County Juvenile Court.

Det. Offredo reported that the Kendall Park teenager had been staying overnight at the home of the Princeton youth. The parents of each, who did not

Stockman Meets with Homeowners over 92 Alignment

State Senator Gerald Stockman took the unusual step of meeting early last Saturday morning with a group of some 30 Herrington Road homeowners.

The residents are concerned about what seems to them a sudden rerouting of a section of the 92 Bypass so that it straddles the Princeton-Montgomery boundary. The new route would traverse a steep ridge on its way across the Millstone River and the Delaware and Raritan Canal to provide a way around Princeton for traffic trying to get from Route 206 to Route One and beyond.

They are seeking ways of pushing the alignment back into the Montgomery valley which is where it has been shown on Department of Transportation maps as a "preserved alignment" since 1972. A recent decision by the Montgomery Planning Board to grant preliminary site plan and subdivision approval to a 385-unit Calton Homes development and an agreement whereby the developer deeded some of his land at a minimal cost for a right-of-way for the highway are factors in the rerouting.

Sen. Stockman reported on taking part in a meeting $85,000 Grant Approved For Housing in Borough

An initial grant of $85,000, with the possibility of as much as $100,000 a year for a total of four years, has been awarded the Borough for housing rehabilitation in the John Street-Witherspoon Street area. The grant comes from the state's Department of Community Affairs, through its Neighborhood Preservation Program.

The award represents professional grantsmanship by Charles Nathanson, retained to guide the Borough through the application labyrinth. "He knows what the state is looking for," says Borough Council member Richard Woodbridge, who first produced Mr. Nathanson.

Plans for Expanded Nassau Inn Approved 9-2 by Planning Board

By a 9-2 vote Monday night, the Planning Board approved the Collins Development plans for an expanded Nassau Inn, setting conditions regarding use of the outdoor cafe and landscaping, and rejecting proposals to limit the height of the addition.

Peter Bearse and John VanPlantinga voted "no." On Tuesday morning, a citizen opponent stated that he would appeal the decision to Borough Council, and possibly beyond.

Throughout, the board was unanimous in its concern about the effect of Collins' plans on Princeton's sewers. Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike proposed that Collins be denied occupancy permits until the Sewer Operating Committee is convinced that four times as much infiltration has been removed from sewers as the normal amount of sewage Collins would put in.

George Olexa, secretary of the SOC, told the board that Collins must obtain sewer approval from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection before the firm can even get a building permit.

Following the overall 9-2 vote, which came after about two and a half hours of comment from board and audience, the board settled down to a series of votes on various segments of the plan and on conditions.

In the most crucial one, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley moved acceptance of the new addition to the Nassau Inn, to be built on the strip parking lot on the east side of Palmer Square East, and of the bridge spanning the street and linking the two parts of the Inn.

The vote was 8-3, with Elizabeth Hutter joining Mr. VanPlantinga and Mr. Bearse to disapprove.

Earlier, Mrs. Hutter had made two vain attempts to reduce the size of the addition. First, she asked that only 50 percent of the
